The Quarrel

I quarreled with my brother
I don't know what about
One thing led to another
And somehow we fell out
The start of it was slight
The end of it was strong
He said he was right
I know he was wrong

We hated one another
That afternoon turned black
Then suddenly my brother
Thumped me on the back
And said, "oh! Come along
we can't go on all night
I was in the wrong"
So he was in the right.

Read the passage and answer the questions.

The milk contains all the food, including protein, fat, sugar, and other nutrients which a young mammal requires for a long period of time. Milk comes from sheep, cows and goats. Milk is good for us because we grow up healthy and have a strong body; we have sharp teeth and have energy. Everybody needs milk for example: babies, toddlers, sick people, children, elderly and old people. In various parts of the world, goats, reindeer, donkeys, yaks, water buffalo and sheep are domesticated and milked. In most countries, however, dairy cows provide milk.

Milk and milk products are drunk and eaten in many forms, including buttermilk, cheese, yoghurt and butter. Milk can be reduced to powder, concentrated in a thick liquid, and used in cooking. Fresh milk sours quickly, but when changed into forms such as cheese, it can be kept for a long time. People consume milk in fresh, dried and condensed forms.

(8 marks)

Lifeguard Rob Howes, his daughter Niccy, 15, Karina Cooper, 15, and Helen Slade, 16, were swimming over 300 feet out to sea at Ocean Beach in New Zealand when suddenly seven dolphins swam toward them. “They were behaving really weirdly,” Mr. Howes said, “swimming in circles around us, and hitting the water with their tails.” One dolphin swam toward Mr. Howes and Hellen, who were about 65 feet away from the other two, and was trying to push them toward the other two girls. “Then suddenly I saw another huge fish swimming around me and Helen,” said Mr. Howes. It was in fact a 9-foot-long great white shark. “It was only about six feet away from us,” he said. At that point, he realized that the dolphins were trying to herd the four of them together to protect them.

The shark then went toward the other two girls. Mr. Howes was terrified, especially because one of the swimmers was his daughter. But the dolphins pushed the four swimmers back together and circled around them for another 40 minutes. Mr. Howes decided not to tell the three girls a shark was sharing the water with them.

Fortunately, the shark finally swam away, and the swimmers all reached the beach safely.

Read the following text and answer the questions.

(08 marks)

Robots

A robot is a machine. But it is not just any machine. It is a special kind of machine that moves and follows instructions that come from a computer. Because it is a machine, it does not make mistakes or get tired. Moreover, it never complains unless you tell it to!

Robots are all around us. Some robots are used to make things. For example, robots can help make cars. Some robots are used to explore dangerous places. For example, robots can help explore volcanoes. Some robots are used to clean things. These robots can help vacuum your house. Some of them can even recognize words. They can be used to help answer telephone calls. Some robots look like humans but most others do not. Most of them just look like machines.

Long ago, people imagined robots. Over 2,000 years ago, a famous poet called Homer imagined robots. His robots were made of gold, and they cleaned and made things. However, they were not real. They were imaginary. Nobody was able to make a real robot until 1961. The first robot was called Unimate, which looked like a giant arm and was used to help make cars.

In the future, we will have even more robots. They will do things that we cannot do, we do not want to do or things that are too dangerous for us. Robots will help us fight fires, fight wars and fight sickness. They will help us discover things. Thus, they will help make life better.

1. What is a robot? .....
2. Give two reasons why they are special? .....
3. Write one thing robots can make. ....
4. Name a dangerous place robots are used to explore. ....
5. What's the name of the poet who imagined robots 2000 years ago? .....

Test 15

Language is the way we talk and share our thoughts. As we learn and grow, we become better at reading, writing, and speaking. Reading introduces us to new ideas, stories, and different cultures. It expands our knowledge. Writing allows us to express our thoughts clearly, and speaking helps us to become more confident communicators. In addition, we get to explore the world of literature. In literature, stories and poetry use words to create pictures. The literature conveys emotions, and delivers important messages. It's like a journey through the world of language, where words become our friends and tools to express ourselves and better understand the world. Language is a key that opens doors to knowledge and connection. It's a skill that stays with us throughout our lives. Language enables us to share our experiences, emotions and ideas with others making the world a more connected and expressive place.

⊙ Test 15

Read the text and answer the questions given bellow.

People have different habits; both good and bad. Reading is one of the most interesting good habits which gives us a lot of advantages.

One can read different texts such as books, magazines, newspapers and so on. They open us doors for different worlds. We can experience a country or a culture where we have never been. We also meet people whom we can never meet in life. Life gives us experiences as we live but reading connects us with them before we really have them.

Reading is a good medicine for a weary or disturbed mind. It gives us opportunity to hide among pages of a book whenever we are troubled. It gives us an immense support to develop our power of imagination. As Buddhists, we are lucky to have great books such as Dhammapadaya and Jathaka story book with us. They lead us to the correct direction of life. If you make reading a habit of yours, you will feel how fair it is to say "Reading makes a full man"

1) What is this text about?

..... (1 mark)

Test 15 . Read the following text and answer the questions .

Wilpattu is the largest national park in Sri Lanka and was declared a National Park in 1938. It is located in the Northern Province just before Mannar and is 185 km from Colombo. The turn-off to the park is at the village of Thimbiriwewa on the 28th milepost on the Puttalam – Anuradhapura road.

The Park office is at Hunuwilagama, a distance of eight kilometers from the turn off. The park has many villus or lakes and it is from these that the park gets its name, Wilpattu. It is a combination of two words, willu meaning lake and pattu meaning land. The western area of the park has dense, forested areas and thorny bushes very much like another great park in southern Sri Lanka, Yala. Weather wise, Wilpattu has intermonsoonal rains in March and April and heavy rains from the Northern monsoon from September to December. From May until December it is drought time for Wilpattu and sometimes owing to this the park may be closed to visitors. Elephants, leopards, the Sri Lankan sloth bear, water buffalo, deer, samhbur, and monkeys are among the many species of animals found at Wilpattu. Painted storks, Sri Lankan jungle fowl, garganey, whistling teal and ibis are among the birds who make their home at Wilpattu.

A section of the park has a very varied, copper red, loamy soils which are very striking. The famous Kudiramali Point is within the park and has this copper coloured soil. The Tamil name Kudiramalai (horse mountain) is taken from the shape of the place. Legend has it that there was a massive statue of a horse here. It is said that it is in this area that Prince Vijaya landed and named it Tambapanni due to its copper red soil.

The ruins of the Yaksha princess Kuveni's palace is also believed to be in the area of Wilpattu at a place called Kali villu. King Dutugamunu's son, Saliya is said to have lived here over 2,000 years ago.

(05 Marks)

I woke up this morning.
 I climbed out of bed.
 I put on my clothes
 and a hat on my head.

I went to the kitchen
 to look for some food.
 I let out a yawn,
 then I sleepily chewed.

I picked up my books
 and my lunch and a snack
 and managed to stuff it all into my pack.

I walked out the front door
 and wandered to school,
 and, wow, did I feel like
 the world's biggest fool.

The lights were all off
 and the doors were all locked,
 and I was embarrassed;
 a little bit shocked.

I looked at my watch
 and, indeed, it was eight.
 But I'd overslept.
 I was twelve hours late.

Read the text and answer the questions.

(08 marks)

The Thief who became a Disciple

When Shichiri Kojun, a Zen monk, was reciting sutras in one evening, a thief with a sharp sword entered demanding either money or his life.

Shichiri told him, "Don't disturb me. You can find the money in the drawer." Then, he resumed his recitation.

A little while afterwards he stopped and called, "Don't take it all. I need some to pay taxes with tomorrow."

The intruder gathered up most of the money and started to leave.

"Thank a person when you receive a gift," Shichiri added. The man thanked him and left.

A few days afterwards the man was caught and confessed, among others, the offence against Shichiri. When Shichiri was called as a witness, he said, "This man is not a thief, at least as far as I'm concerned. I gave him money and he thanked me for it."

After he had finished his prison term, the man went to Shichiri and became a monk.
